PERFORMANCE COMPARISONS

GREAT GRAPHIC ADHESION

Many awnings incorporate corporate logos and identification. In most cases decoration is achieved by applying adhesive vinyl lettering. When these graphics fail to stick they become wrinkled, bubbled unsightly messes. Awncade has a specially designed acrylic topcoat that provides it with outstanding, virtually unmatched graphic adhesion. The above graph shows the adhesive retention after simulation of 2 years accelerated weathering. The comparison is made with comparable opaque front-lit and back-lit materials with similar translucent quality. No other front or backlit awning material comes close to Awncade's graphic adhesion.

SUPERIOR STRENGTH

Awncade punches above it's weight in so many areas. Stronger than any frontlit or backlit near it's weight class. This versatile material has so many potential uses, not just a contender—but a future champion. Awncade share many of the qualities of it's big brother Awncade including a flawless record of performance since being introduced 5 years ago. Find out why more awning shops are converting to Awncade.
